

ALPHABET SOUP AND INDIGESTION: ACO, MIPS, MACRA AND APM EXPLAINED AND PEARLS FOR GI PRACTICE IN 2016

Target Audience

This program is aimed toward gastroenterologists, internal medicine physicians, gastroenterology residents, fellows and students, physician assistants, and nurse practitioners.

Program Description

The MGA Endoscopic Education Program Committee has been formed with the mission of providing practical, evidence-based lectures and seminars to practicing gastroenterologists and GI fellows in New England who may not have the opportunity to attend more distant and extended national conferences. This lecture series covers a broad range of topics in endoscopy, hepatology, and gastroenterology. This course will provide education on health care reform, focusing on the practical aspects of these reforms and how they will specifically affect gastroenterologists.

Program Objectives

As a result of participating in this activity, learners should be able to:

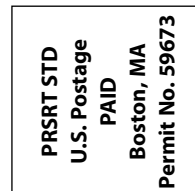

1. Understand the types of alternative payment models that gastroenterologists may be participating in as health care reform continues
2. Be able to describe what an Accountable Care Organization is and how specialists can play a supportive role
3. Be able to describe the Medicare Access and CHIP Re-authorization Act (MACRA) and how it affects payment models for physicians

AMA Credit Designation Statement

The Massachusetts Medical Society designates this live activity for a maximum of 2 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Accreditation Statement

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through joint providership of the Massachusetts Medical Society and the Massachusetts Gastroenterology Association. The Massachusetts Medical Society is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.
